REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN STATE ANTICIPATED

Philadelphia Newspaper Compiles Figures and Estimates

SENTIMENT INDICATED

Washington County Correspondent Thinks Republican Ticket is Safe

Republicanism will triumph in the general election next Tuesday according to the finding of the Philadelphia Press, which has compiled a review of affairs from all the counties of Pennsylvania. The Press has the following to say:

What is the real political situation in Pennsylvania?

Will Boies Penrose or A. Mitchell Palmer be the next United States senator from this commonwealth?

Will Martin G. Brumbaugh or Vance C. McCormick be its next governor?

"The Press" in its desire to forecast the answer to these questions sent queries to its correspondents in all parts of the state. Its instructions to these correspondents gave the scope and aim of the inquiry in the following words:

"The Press" desires to learn as near as possible the probable vote for United States senator and governor in your county.

We want the reports to be accurate, thorough and comprehensive.

We want you to ask the chairman of your Republican county committee and the chairman of your Democratic county committee the following questions:

How will your county vote on the senatorship and the governorship? Please give any reason you may have for your opinion.

After writing to us exactly what the chairman of the Republican and Democratic county committees say, we would further ask you to give us your own personal view in answer to the best information you can obtain.

The responses to the queries show an undeniable Republican gain in all parts of the state. This is indicated more clearly in reports by the correspondents than in the claims by the chairmen of the several counties.

Many counties report disintegration of the Bull Moose party and return of the voters to Republican ranks.

Impartial estimates from unprejudiced correspondents in every county indicate that Dr. Brumbaugh will carry the state by 97,300 plurality. These figures show that he will carry forty-one counties with a plurality of 124,000 and that McCormick will get twenty-five counties with a margin of 26,700. The conditions in one county, Snyder, are so mixed that no accurate estimate can be made.

These figures giving the probable vote in every county which has been secured and compiled with the greatest care and solely with the desire to give as accurate and impartial forecast as possible.

The vote for Governor in 1910 was: Tener, Republican, 415,614; Grim, Democrat, 129,395; Berry, Keystone, 382,127.

In Washington County.

Following is the statement as given from Washington county:

Norman E. Clarke, Republican county chairman, declares that Penrose and Brumbaugh will carry the county by a substantial majority and adds that Penrose sentiment is growing daily. "It is too early for accurate pre-election estimates," said Mr. Clarke, "and the 7,500 voters with no expressed party choice will cut a big figure in the final count. However I believe that the Republican vote in November will be at least 3,500 above the total combined vote of the Democrats and Progressives. Brumbaugh and Penrose will run about even I think, because all those who vote the Republican ticket at all will vote a straight ticket."

Democratic Claim.

J. W. Martin, Democratic county chairman can see nothing but sweeping victory for Palmer and McCormick. Based on a possible vote of 17,000 in the county this fall, Martin figures that Palmer will receive about 7,100 votes, while McCormick, on two tickets, will get about 9,500 votes. He believes the Socialist vote will increase from 1200 to between 1,500 and 1,800 and a large part of this addition he declares will come from former Republican voters.

Correspondent's View.

The correspondent's view is that Penrose will carry the county by a very narrow margin, but that McCormick will run ahead of Brumbaugh by probably 500. The 7,500 "no choice" voters are undoubtedly the deciding factor in the fight and at this time no one can say where the majority of them will go; in fact, it is highly probable that their vote will be much divided.

The automobile of H. H. Duvall, the Fifth street grocer, started on a trip of its own down Fifth street Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock. Mr. Duvall had left it standing in front of his store.

The machine crossed from the left to the right side and stopped with a crash when it came in contact with the telephone pole in front of the Bank of Charleroi building.

The wind shield was broken, one light twisted, the radiator badly bent and the crank bent back under the car. The engine was not damaged to any extent.

Following a visit this week to Monessen of C. J. Hunt associate chief medical inspector of the Stat Department of Health, a sanitary survey of Monessen will be made under direction of the Monessen Board of Health. Mr. Hunt was called to Monessen Monday by an outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is found now, a ccording to report, that there are 59 cases of typhoid fever in Monessen. There are two causes believed to be at the bottom of the outbreak of typhoid, bad wells and the milk supply. At least two of the sources of the Monessen milk supply are claimed to be bad.

Mr. Hunt made a thorough inspection of the town and suggested to the Board of Health what provisions should be made. He advised the abatement of all individual water supplies and suggested a better disposal of garbage and refuse as well as an ordinance regulating the milk supply. Mr. Hunt also this week visited in Donora, where there has been an epidemic of scarlet fever.

BINGVILLE DANCE UNIQUE EVENT AT ELKS' CLUB

Decorations Unusual, Town of Bingville Being Constituted

One of the most unique events ever held by a social committee of Charleroi lodge, No. 494, B. P. O. Elks, was that Tuesday night of the barn dance at the Elks' home. Every room was decorated picturesquely and the interior of the beautiful club house on Third street converted into a regular town of "Bingville."

Even the inevitable blacksmith was provided, and the country store was there to be seen in all its glory. The back woods printing establishment, with its publication of Bingville Bugle was capably conducted. Copies of the Bugle were distributed. A photograph gallery where "pictures were took" occupied a conspicuous nook. Hay was scattered in the reception hall at the entrance to the dancing floor and at convenient spots, and autumn leaves and sprigs of saplings were used effectively in the decorative effects.

The event was for the members of Charleroi lodge and their specially invited guests. There was a goodly number present from Charleroi, Pittsburg, Bentleyville, Ellsworth and numerous other points, but there was no overcrowding.

One of the chief features of the evening was the actual shoeing of a pony belonging to a son of Dr. J. Clive Enos, at the Bingville blacksmith shop. The pony was perfectly shod by Samuel Claybaugh.

Dancing was from 8:30 until 1. Cards were provided for those who did not care for tripping the light fantastic, and altogether one of the most enjoyable times ever was realized.

Plan to Hold Motor Hill Climbing Events Called Off

ARRANGING FOR PARADE

Final Details Being Worked Out for Climax to Week of Fun and Frolic

It is now definately known that there will be no automobile hill climbing contests held in connection with the Hallowe'en celebration Saturday, as was at first thought. The reason given forth is that the time is short and no one seems to have the time to spare to look after the matter.

Arrangements are being made for the parade and prizes are being procured to be awarded to the maskers. Considerable interest has been manifested in this part of the celebration and many pretty as well as grotesque costumes are being prepared for the occasion.

Hallowe'en socials and celebrations of different kinds are being held in many places in Charleroi and the immediate neighborhood this week. Saturday night will be the final climax to a week of fun and frolic.

As in former years the police will be on the watch Saturday night and maintain order. The people will be allowed to enjoy themselves, but not to damage property.

FITTILE REMEDIES.

With the adjournment of congress there comes an end for the present that legislative program of President Wilson that was to bring plenty and prosperity to every person in the land. This was the promise that he and his party made to the people. The occupant of the White House has now had put upon the statute book all of the new laws that he considers necessary to bring about good business in the United States. The time has come for the results that were so glowingly guaranteed, says the Philadelphia Press.

The first part of this program was a change of tariff. A new law was framed that has no regard for the industries of America. It is also a law that is faulty in construction, illogical in its development, filled with contradictions and ambiguities, wrong in principle and vicious in practice. It not only failed to do the things that it was promised to do, but it also did exactly those things that it was promised should not be done. It did not reduce the cost of living and cheapen prices to the consumer. But it did throw labor out of employment and take away reasonable and legitimate profit from the producer.

When none of the promised benefits appeared from the tariff legislation, then there was rushed through congress a new banking and currency law. This was to end all business troubles, so the White House declared as soon as this great piece of legislation was passed the waters of prosperity were to gush forth as though their source had been smitten with the rod of the prophe. In the making of this law, as in the tariff the experience of the nations of the world was ignored. The banking inexperience and intuitive expert knowledge of the president and his advisers had full play.

Again the promised prosperity failed to appear so the persident tried another remedy, one that he said would heal all business ills. This was legislation to regulate trade. First a federal trade commission was provided for. This is a board with inquisitorial powers to examine into the private business of both corporations and individuals engaged in interstate trade and to decide, without any rule prescribed for its guidance, according to the notions of its members from day to day, what is fair and what is unfair competition in commerce.

There is nothing in this law which will help business. There is nothing in it which will afford any advice, guidance or consolation to any puzzled business man as to whether what he is about to do is lawful or unlawful. Its sole object is to examine into the private affairs of all persons conducting an interstate business and to prohibit whatever the commission may consider to be unfair.

The last remedy to be prescribed was a so-called "anti-trust" law, the title designed to convey the impression that congress was passing some legislation against the trusts. But that is an entirely erroneous idea. Its provisions are directed against persons and corporations engaged in commerce irrespective of whether they are trusts or not. Mr. Wilson says that this law will remove the interrogation points that confront the American business man. But, dealing as it does with the most intricate mechanism of commercial transactions, the law fairly bristles with complicated legal questions. Instead of removing any interrogation point it will obtrude before the puzzled gaze of the business men of the country interrogation points at the end of its every paragraph.

These are the agents upon which the Democrats depend to make prosperity blossom like a rose. They will fail.

They do not touch the real cause of the present conditions. That cause is lack of confidence in the Democratic party, and universal distrust and fear by the business world of that party's policies. Lack of confidence cannot be cured by a few frigid, skillfully arranged phrases of the academician, not by laws framed by those who know not what they do. Present conditions can be cured in but one way, and that by the restoration to power of the Republican party. They can be materially helped by a Republican victory in the nation on Tuesday next.

ABOUT OUTLIVED ITS DAY

Before many years have passed this will be a matchless world. Then we can save several hundred millions of dollars annually in property lost by fires, and in lives. In addition our fire insurance rates will be reduced, says the New Castle Herald.

It is claimed that the chief cause of fires is the throwing away of lighted matches. To be sure people could exercise more care and not throw lighted matches in waste paper baskets and patches of dry grass, but as long as matches are used, fires will result from the careless user of matches.

In the olden days flint-and-steel and the tinder box was used in the place of matches. Later the "locofocos" replaced this primitive fire starter. The next improvement was the brimstone match. The modern fire starter is the "safety" match. Despite the name this match is not "safe."

We do not need matches any more. The gas can be lighted by little automatic lighters. This lighter is as cheap and far more safer than the match. For lighting cigars and cigarettes, matches are unnecessary. Automatic lighters will answer the purpose.

The match will soon be a relic of the past. It has been both a boon and disaster for man. Like the one horse shay, it has about outlived its usefulness.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

One of the party with Col. Roosevelt on his tour through the Monongahela valley Tuesday told a story of a political meeting in Washington county in the "good old times" when fighting was hard and issues closely drawn.

One night a party of campaigners went to a small country town to hold a rally. The meeting was well attended, but reception of the orators was cool.

One of the chief orators made the best speech of his career, speaking to an unenthusiastic audience. He worked up to a fine climax, with the intent of compelling vigorous applause.

Perspiring freely he sat down, but there was no applause. The situation was stained. An aged voter at the back of the room broke the embarrassing silence by arising and addressing the chair.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "I move that we applaud the speaker—some."

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, Herbert Quick, editor of that publication, writing about the apple market, says that people who are seeking to economize in war time should have their attention directed to the apple as a cheap and wholesome substitute for things which have gone up in price. He continues:

"The organized apple growers should make an advertising campaign in the city papers. Teach the people the value of apples as a food.

"'An apple a day keeps the doctor away,' it is said, and there is no doubt that this king of all fruits has great dietary value.

"Co-operative buying clubs should be encouraged to buy and store apples while they are cheap."

ELGIE TOBIN MAY LOSE EYESIGHT FROM EXPLOSION AT STATE

Captain E. W. Tobin of Penn State's football eleven and G. G. Saurhoff of Hadder Heights, N. J., president of the sophomore class at State are suffering from terrible burns from the explosion of five barrels of gasoline that was poured over a gigantic pile of firewood to celebrate the return of the team from Harvard, where they played the Crimson to a tie in Saturday's game. Both men, it is feared will lose their eyesight. They are in the Bellefonte hospital. The accident took place at State college.

So great was the force of the explosion that residences in all parts of the village were rocked, windows of college buildings and fraternity houses were shattered and plaster fell from the walls in the home of Dr. D. E. Sparks, president of the college. Hundreds of spectators who circled the bonfire 50 feet away were knocked down. Many suffered injuries from flying debris and the stampede that followed.

Tobin and Saurhoff were standing side by side, 5 feet from the pile. Under Saurhoff's direction Tobin lighted a torch and threw it into the woodpile. Nearby was a half a barrel of gasoline. This exploded and immediately there followed the ignition of fumes from more than four barrels poured liberally over the mass of timer.

Tobin is from the Monongahela valley. His home formerly was in Roscoe.

You may also know a woman, who, no matter how painstaking, can't seem to get the knack of successful baking.

Both use the same butter, same eggs, same flour and sugar. What is the difference?

Very likely it's all in the baking powder. Undoubtedly the woman with the knack uses Royal Baking Powder, and the unsuccessful woman uses an alum baking powder thinking it cheaper.

An Appeal to the Christian, Patriotic Voters of The County

The Christian, patriotic voters of Washington county have a great opportunity this fall in making their votes count at the ballot box on election day for righteousness.

The line between the forces of evil and the forces of good government has been closely drawn.

The big issue this fall is whether or not the people shall have a right to settle the liquor question for themselves.

The liquor interests are active. They have a strong organization. much money and have allied themselves with other interests in business and politics. who are dependent on legislation. They have their candidates.

There is no politics in this campaign. The situation is not complicated. But it is up to you, as Christian voters to go to the polls on election day and see that your friends are there. Make a personal canvass of your district. See your neighbor. Acquaint him with the facts, tell him who the candidates are, who are on our side. This is the time to strike an effective blow against the liquor interests and the corrupt political gang in alliance with them.

WAR BULLETINS

Paris. Oct 28.—The German line has been broken by a supreme rally of the Belgians, British and French in the neighborhood of Dixmude. The attack was made against the left flank of the Germans. It is stated that the Germans at that point were driven back across the border onto German soil. The French gained a victory between the forests of Bezange and Parroy. The Germans are reported to be falling back upon Metz. The 5,000 Germans who crossed the Yser on bridges in the night either have been killed or taken prisoner. The 3,000 Germans who occupied the char-heaped cemetery, which once was Dixmude have been driven out and hunted down. Fully 2,500 German bodies are floating in Ypres, which is red with their blood.

Berlin. Oct. 28.—The battle on the Yser canal, Ypser and southwesterly from Lillie, is proceeding with the same stubborness. The German troops have made progress. Nothing important has occured in the western theatre of war. To the west of Augustowo the attack of the Germans is slowly proceeding. To the southwest of Warsaw the Germans have repulsed the Russians. North of Ivangorod a new Russian army corps has crossed the Vistula.

Petrograd, Oct . 28.—Fighting has begun in eastern Prussia. The Russians have repulsed fierce German attacks in the region of Bakalorzewo. A convoy of prisoners were taken on the left bank of the Gombin by the Russians. There have been many recruits to the German forces. The Russians took about 50 officers and 3,000 men. Several machine guns and eight cannons were captured. South of Solec the Russians took eight officers and 3.000 men and some machine guns.

DR. F. P. PARKIN FLAYS PASTORS

Scores Methodist Ministers' Meeting For Endorsement.

FAVORS DOCTOR BRUMBAUGH

District Superintendent Asserts That Bishop Berry Said Proceeding Was Unwise.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23. — Rev. Dr Frank P. Parkin, district superintendent of the Philadelphia Methodist Conference, has repudiated the action of the Philadelphia-Camden Methodist preachers' meeting in its indorsement of Gifford Pinchot for senator and Vance C. McCormick for governor.

Dr. Parkin says that Bishop Joseph F. Berry has intimated to friends that the indorsement of certain candidates by the Methodist preachers' meeting was an unwise proceeding.

Dr. Parkin's protest, which he writes under the caption, "Are the Methodists Opposed to Dr. Brumbaugh?" follows:

"The Methodist Episcopal church is conceded to be the largest Protestant body in the United States. The same is certainly true as to its place in this Keystone State of Pennsylvania. From the days of John Wesley until this present hour no church has been more pronounced against the liquor traffic in all its forms.

"In the present nation-wide campaign in favor, first, of local option, and, later, of national prohibition, the Methodist preachers' voice and influence can always be counted on in the battle against King Barleycorn. He is ready to serve in the trenches, to charge with the cavalry troop, to man a siege gun or do scouting service in an aeroplane.

Preachers Divided.

"Preachers, however, like laymen divide on methods where moral reforms are at issue. There is at present a very determined effort, fostered by a few papers, secular and religious, to give the impression that the Methodist preachers of Pennsylvania in this present exciting campaign are almost unanimously against Dr. Brumbaugh, one of the candidates for governor.

"The action of the Philadelphia-Camden preachers' meeting on Monday morning, Oct 5, in Wesley hall is one of several such instances. The vote of that body in indorsing the so-called Harrisburg ticket has been widely proclaimed throughout the state as representing the attitude of Methodism generally in this campaign. Emphasis has been placed on the fact that there were only two dissenting votes

Action Not Wise.

"It is an open secret that Bishop Berry, our resident bishop, has, since that meeting, declared to several prominent laymen, as well as ministers, that he felt such action was not wise. In the columns of the Methodist Times last week, with characteristic sagacity and acumen, he called attention to the fact that both Mr. McCormick and Dr Brumbaugh are open advocates of the local option program and forcibly declared that the vital thing at stake is the composition of the next legislature.

"Inasmuch as the Wesley hall meetings are now a joint gathering of the preachers of New Jersey and of Pennsylvania, the action taken in indorsing a certain ticket for one state was most unfortunate. A pastor of a New Jersey church was on the program for that morning, and naturally a large number of his fellow pastors from Camden and vicinity were present. I am informed by reliable parties that these men voted enthusiastically with their Philadelphia friends. It needs no argument to prove that under these circumstances the much advertised vote of Oct. 5 is virtually nugatory, if not ludicrous.

"Moreover, Methodists have been for years the most pronounced opponents of the alleged practice of another great and influential church in having their clergy instruct their people just how they should vote in certain elections. Methodists must now take the defensive, if similar charges should ever be made against them.

Trust Dr. Brumbaugh.

"The writer is an independent Republican, with the emphasis on that first word. He rejoices in the fact that Mr. McCormick, the Democratic candidate for governor, is a man of such high character and so pronounced an advocate of local option. But Dr. Brumbaugh is not his inferior in any respect, and the attempt by a few misguided temperance men to hold him up as the 'Booze Candidate' is as grossly unjust as it is manifestly unwise and only injures the temperance cause. If the liquor men of Pennsylvania imagine that Dr Brumbaugh will be the easy tool of Senator Penrose or the organized liquor traffic, they are destined to a rude awakening from their pipe-dreams. While his party platform, unfortunately for that party, is silent on the question of local option, the candidate for governor is most outspoken, both in public and private.

"In a personal letter received from Dr. Brumbaugh, under date of Oct. 16, in response to a previous letter, he says: 'You may depend upon it, my dear friend, that I stand absolutely four-square on the local option question, and every other moral issue, for if I cannot pray as I go I will not go. It hurts me to have good people go wrong on a moral issue in Pennsylvania. * * * I pray the Lord to guide you and me always in the ways that are right.'

"Surely a man who can write a letter like that, and one he did not expect to have published, is a man who can be absolutely trusted on the local option question.

"It is an insult to the intelligence of the average voter in this era of ever-increasing independent voting to say that if a man votes the head of the ticket he lends his influence to every other name on that ticket. In giving my own testimony, that for over twenty years I have never voted a straight ticket of any political party, but have exercised the American right of scratching every unworthy candidate, I am only doing what I have reason to know many hundreds of Methodist preachers and many more thousands of our laymen will do, in the coming election, vote for Dr. Brumbaugh, the Christian educator and statesman, but scratch the name of every associate on his ticket whose record will not bear the fullest inves-

This Charleroi citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. Robert Coulter, 520 Third St., Charleroi, Pa., says: "One of the family had the measles when he was five years old, which left him with weak kidneys. The trouble was most distressing at night and there seemed to be an inability to control the kidney secretions. I had often mended and I was induced to get a supply at Piper's Pharmacy. The one who used this remedy was soon benefited and we have hopes of a permanent cure."

Her Hopes Realized.

On January 30, 1914, Mrs. Coulter said. "I willingly confirm the statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. Doan's Kidney Pills made a complete cure for one of our family."
